

IT SKILLS IMPORTANT QUESTION NO. 3

Chapter No. 2

Q:1. What does Computer Architecture mean?

Ans: Definition of Computer Architecture:

A computer consists of different components. Each component performs a specific function in the computer. The components of computer can communicate with one another. The way in which various components of the computer system are connected with one another is called computer architecture.

Allama Iqbal Law College, Sialkot 03140350211